

MUST EAT!!

In Phuket

The image shows the interior of One Chun Café & Restaurant. The walls are made of exposed brick and are covered with various vintage items, including several different styles of wall clocks, framed pictures, and decorative objects. Two dark wooden tables are set with white plates, cutlery, and glasses, ready for dining. The atmosphere is warm and nostalgic.

ONE CHUN

One Chun Café & Restaurant serves an authentic Thai cuisine with a preference for southern dishes at affordable prices in the relaxed atmosphere of a vintage décor. Located on Thepkasattri Road's last section in Phuket Old Town, One Chun is set in a historical building dating back early 20th century.

The image shows the interior of Tu Kab Khao restaurant. The room features a large window with a view of the outdoors, a dark leather sofa, and several wooden tables set with dishes. The walls are decorated with framed pictures and a large, multi-colored lobster mounted on the wall. The overall style is classic and elegant.

TU KAB KHAO

Tu Kab Khao is a great Thai restaurant in a 120-year-old building on Phang Nga Road in Phuket Old Town. It focuses on serving delicious dishes from Southern Thailand, offering an exceptional local dining experience. The restaurant is easily spotted along the street of similarly old and beautiful buildings because of the giant multi-coloured lobster fastened to one wall.

MUST EAT!!

In Phuket

The image shows the interior of Ka Jok See restaurant. It features a rustic, warm atmosphere with wooden tables and chairs. The walls are decorated with red beaded garlands and framed pictures. A large mirror is mounted on the wall, reflecting the interior. The tables are set with white napkins, glassware, and small red candles. The lighting is soft and intimate.

KA JOK SEE

Ka Jok See is the Flying Dutchman of Phuket Town's dining scene: this legendary restaurant is packed every night (reservation is mandatory) although you never see it advertised or promoted anywhere, and even more, you could pass in front of its door without noticing it as there is no sign to indicate its presence.

The image shows the interior of La Gaetana Italian Restaurant. It features a cozy, rustic atmosphere with wooden tables and chairs. The walls are decorated with framed pictures and a checkered vase. A bar area is visible in the background with various bottles and a menu board. The tables are set with white napkins, glassware, and small red candles. The lighting is warm and intimate.

LA GAETANA

Italian Restaurant

La Gaetana is a 32 covers restaurant located near the intersection of Phuket and Ongsimpai roads, 100m south of Robinson Department Store in the centre of Phuket Town. Set in a standard two-storey shop-house, La Gaetana may be small by its size but huge by the quality of its cuisine, atmosphere and service.

MUST EAT!!

In Phuket

BLUE ELEPHANT

The Phuket branch is based in a splendid, old Chinese-colonial style mansion set in sprawling grounds near the heart of the old quarter of Phuket Town. Fine dining set in opulent surroundings are the order of the day at Blue Elephant, Phuket branch.

SUAY Restaurant

Suay (meaning 'beautiful' in Thai) keeps things uncomplicated and cheap but that doesn't mean it's not without a lot of allure and appeal; Chef Tammasak enjoys delivering top-class food at reasonable prices so it's not surprising that the place does well with an approach like that.

MUST EAT!!

In Phuket

SIAM SUPPER CLUB

The Siam Supper Club is a chic, destination bar and grill bringing cool to a place known for its tropical heat. Laguna, Phuket provides the beautiful backdrop for this now internationally famous establishment. The menu is best described as "West Coast Cuisine" and serves what many say are the finest meats, fish and pizzas in South East Asia. If, indeed, the proof is in the pudding then our desert menu is topped off by the best Cheese Cake under the sun. Eating at the Siam Supper Club is said to be, by food connoisseurs, a truly unique taste experience on an island already famous for its food.

BAMPOT

Kitchen & Bar

Bampot kitchen & bar is an independent restaurant & bar located near the entrance to Laguna and Boat Avenue. Chef Freddy Warne brings a fresh approach to our modern European menu after stints in top kitchens in the UK, Japan and Australia. Our wine and drinks selection is gently biased towards small, independent producers and suppliers which reflects our enthusiasm for hands-on craftsmanship.

MUST EAT!!

In Phuket

PALM SEASIDE

Be it for a late business lunch or for a romantic dinner, always exceptional yet never pretentious our setting, service and style celebrate the joy of dining by the sea. Whether it is the freshest seafood simply steamed or barbecued or our selection of favorite Thai and International dishes, Palm Seaside is always a culinary treat. Accompanied by an eclectic selection of wines from around the world, one contemplates a unique setting where one is a part of it.

LEONARDO DAVINCI

The Leonardo Da Vinci team is delighted to present our traditional Italian cuisine which blends perfectly with the naturally exotic environment of our idyllic tropical island of Phuket. The concept of the restaurant is driven by a variety of tasteful, creative and artistic talents that are expressed through the cuisine, wine, garden, music, art and overall relaxed dining experience.